Mr. Woodward endeavoring to maintain control was thrown onto the harrows and severely injured, being somewhat battered, though fortunately no bones were broken.

The team got away after the injury to the driver and when found had plied up on top of the harrows one horse being killed, another badly lacerated while the other two suffered minor cuts and injuries.

Minutes Of Wainwright Town Council Meeting Held On June 19th

Finance Committee Submits Report

The second regular meeting of the Council of the Town of Wainwright for the month of June was held in the Council Chamber at 8:00 o'clock p.m. on Tuesday, the 19th instant.

The members of Council present at this meeting were Councillors Billing, Adams, Welch, McLeod, Cousier and Link.

In the absence of Mayor Forster, Deputy-Mayor Billing presided. The recorded proceedings of Council at its regular meeting of June 5th, 1934, were read and, on motion, were adopted and confirmed as written.

A letter from the department of neglected children for the Province of Alberta informed Council that Jack Hyron had been returned to the department from his foster home. The department desired to learn whether the Town of Wainwright were willing to bear the expenses of his maintenance.

On motion, this communication was referred to the Town Solicitor for his advice as to the liability of the Town of Wainwright.

A largely signed petition requested Council to dispense with the Wednesday half holiday in the second week of July and to proclaim a half holiday on Thursday, July 12th, owing to the celebration to be held on that day.

On motion, it was resolved that, in view of the petition to change the Wednesday holiday to Thursday in the week of July 12th, the Council take no action against those business men who keep their places of business open on Wednesday with a view of closing on Thursday.

The Finance Committee submitted the following report which, on motion, was accepted and incorporated in the proceedings of the meeting, viz:

Since the date of our appointment in February last, this committee has not been satisfied with the method pursued in the purchasing of commodities for or on behalf of the town. It appears to us that there have been altogether too many purchasing agents with the result that many accounts are submitted to this committee unvouched for although the merchants submitting the accounts have delivered the goods and are therefore entitled to prompt payment therefor. Members of Council are evidently of opinion that small expenditures do not require the same degree of supervision as that of larger expenditures with the result that the amount of money is annually disbursed in small items without any apparent benefit to the town while the more important demands are allowed to suffer.

We would respectfully draw your attention to the provisions of By-Law No. 1 under which this Council is carrying on and the provisions of which should be recognized by the members of Council. Under the head of Money Appropriations, accounts, Expenditures and Contracts, this By-Law, under Section 45, reads as follows: Notwithstanding any

After considerable discussion of ways and means, several plans of enlargement being considered, it was finally agreed that a rink be erected on the north side of the Building of this addition to be undertaken immediately.

The object of this special meeting was to consider enlargement of the rink, to accommodate one more sheet of ice.

CANADIAN MAY TAKE CHARGE OF CENTRAL BANK

Ottawa.—Mention of the name of Mr. Edward F. Mackay by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett in connection with the government of Canada's new central bank, caused some speculation in parliamentary circles. Sir Edward is a Canadian who has had a highly successful financial career in London and holds a high position in the Bank of England.

Mr. Bennett, opposing an amendment, which would restrict selection of a bank governor to British residents in Canada, said this would bar such a man as Sir Edward. He said it would be a bad precedent to declare a Canadian born and educated, who had gone abroad and fitted himself for a high position would not be eligible for that position when it was open. The amendment was defeated on a standing vote.

Earlier Mr. Bennett said he had been informed the bankers of Canada were of the opinion that there was no man among them capable of taking over the control of the central bank. He was opposing a move launched by Maxime Raymond (Liberal, Beauharnois), to make the Bank of Canada not require that a governor, deputy governor and assistant deputy governor be Canadians domiciled in Canada.

For commercial banking, Canadians were as good as any in the world, the prime minister declared, but none of them had the necessary experience with the duties of a central bank to take over the management of such an institution.

In no other country in the world where a central bank operates is a greater measure of control exercised over that institution by the government than is proposed with respect to the Bank of Canada. Mr. Bennett told the house. In an exhaustive analysis of the history and functions of central banks Mr. Bennett replied to many objections and criticisms from the opposition.

He referred particularly to an amendment proposed by Hon. L. Ralston (Liberal, Yarmouth-Sheburne), which would give the government power to appoint four of the seven directors of Canada. The amendment came when the Bank of Canada bill was before the house in committee.

The aim of the bill, said Mr. Bennett, was to remove the bank from possible political influences. In general it was in line with the modern tendency of financial policy which was to regard central banks as "great public trusts" rather than as departments of state.

Mr. Bennett promised to give serious consideration to a suggestion from Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, that the new bank might be able to thwart the wishes of the government of the day in matters of trade and fiscal policy.

Mr. King said he feared this contingency might prevent the event of the directors of the bank, for example, favoring the development of trade within the empire and the government wishing to promote general world trade.

He could see no possibility of such a contingency arising, said Mr. Bennett, but the government did not wish to hand over to the bank any measure of control over fiscal policy. If Mr. King or any other member could show there was a danger of this and suggest a method of remedying it he would be glad to give effect to his views. In the meantime he would consider the matter further himself.

Japan Keeps Plans Secret

No Information Given Out Regarding 1935 Naval Conference

London.—The Japanese have erected a diplomatic fence of secrecy around their plans for the 1935 naval conference despite assurances of the fairest treatment by representatives of Great Britain and the United States.

Tsunao Matsudaira, Japanese ambassador, declined to tell Norman H. Davis, American representative, in preliminary bilateral discussions what are the present proposals and hopes of the Tokyo government.

After Davis had given Matsudaira an unreserved promise that there will be no sort of Anglo-American understanding against Japan, he questioned the Japanese ambassador regarding his nation's plans.

Bumped By Sea Monster

Crew of Schooner Has Exciting Experience Off Nova Scotia Coast
Yarmouth, N.S.—A night of terror aboard the auxiliary schooner Marjorie E. was described here by fishermen who declared a monster of the sea had almost lifted their vessel out of the water off the Nova Scotia coast.

"It happened Sunday night," related one of the crew. "The night was clear and all of us except the watch were in our bunks."

"Suddenly there was a thundering crash that threw three men from their bunks to the floor. One of them shouted 'We've been rammed—let's get out on deck.'"

"Out we scrambled to the moonlight deck and we were amazed to see in the swirling water the huge form of what appeared to be a whale."

"In frisking about the thing probably had risen directly beneath the ship and the force of the impact lifted her almost clear of the water, allowing it to plunge back with terrific force."

"We didn't know what to do, but we started our engines full speed ahead and left the scene in a hurry, you can bet!"

Across Atlantic In Yacht

Lone Adventurer Makes Perilous Trip From Ireland
St. John's, Nfld.—A lone adventurer from Great Britain sailed his tiny yacht into harbor after crossing the Atlantic and then tumbled gracefully into bed for his real sleep in 24 days.

Commander R. B. Graham, R.N., was skipper and crew of the 24-foot yawl on the perilous crossing from Bantry, Ireland. He left there three days ago, and though heavy weather beat his little boat at times, made a remarkably fast crossing.

To hear Commander Graham speak sailing across the Atlantic single-handed might be an every-day happening. "Yes," he said, "we had some varied weather, but the boat behaved splendidly."

Nothing worried him on the long trip, he said—except lack of sleep. At night he would turn in after setting a course and leaving the yawl's helm, but his sleep would be interrupted from time to time.

Crop Situation Improves

Domestic Bureau Of Statistics Issues Report For West

Ottawa.—Cereal crops in the prairie provinces were adjusting themselves to the complete change in weather conditions which occurred during the first week in June, and which had continued since that time, stated a crop report issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics.

In some areas, notably the southern portions of the three provinces, drought, wind and grasshoppers have taken a toll of the crop and even the favorable weather so far experienced in June will not offset damage. In these areas, however, a noticeable improvement has taken place. Grasshoppers have been generally inactive. Crops in northern areas of the three provinces have made steady progress during the past week.

Manitoba prospects range from fair to good except in southern districts, where adverse weather conditions caused serious damage.

Better Feeling Towards Canada

Vancouver.—Better feeling towards Canada and Canadian products is reported by Col. T. A. Hiam, former assistant to the president, Canadian National Railway, who arrived in Vancouver on the liner Empress of Japan, after what he termed a "scouting" trip to the orient.

No Answer From Thomas

London.—J. H. Thomas, secretary for Dominions, declined to answer in the House of Commons when a questioner asked if the British government was prepared to "bring pressure" on the Canadian government to implement the Ottawa agreement in respect of the Canadian tariff board.

United States Buying Silver

Washington.—United States government has extended its new monetary policy into another field with the signature of President Roosevelt of the Pittman silver purchase bill. The measure directs buying of the metal by the treasury until it comprises 25 per cent. of the nation's metallic monetary stock.

Canadian Printing

Ottawa.—The Canadian printing trade employs 32,884 men and women, says the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, and produced $101,492,333 in 1932, $36,312,989 representing daily newspaper output.

Second Action Against Rodeo

Tex. Austin Is Having His Troubles In England

London.—Troubles continued to pile up for Tex Austin, promoter of the "world's greatest rodeo."

Already accused of terrifying a steer in violation of laws against cruelty to animals, Austin was notified of a new action against him because he staged a charity performance of his gentle rodeo Sunday.

The new action was instituted by the Lord's Day Observance Society, which seeks to collect $500 from Austin and $1,000 from the National Sporting Club.

HEPBURN TO TAKE OVER REINS OF OFFICE ON JULY 10

Toronto.—Mitchell F. Hepburn, the youngest man to ever gain the premiership of old Ontario, arrived here to build up a Liberal cabinet to take over the reins of government, back in the grasp of the party after a lapse of 29 years.

As the 37-year-old Liberal leader, "tired but happy," rested at his home near St. Thomas after a strenuous campaign climaxed with a smashing victory, discussion of the overwhelming downfall of Conservative representatives turned to eager speculation as to the next steps.

It appeared the new regime, the first Liberal administration since 1905, would not be in office for three weeks, or until about July 10. Premier George S. Henry and his ministers, most of them defeated, will clean up their desks before tendering their resignations to the lieutenant-governor. Mr. Hepburn will complete his cabinet slate and formulate the initial program before taking over.

Date of the advent of the new regime, the fate of heads of the legislature to deal with unemployment and relief, as promised by Mr. Hepburn; the fate of heads of 23 boards and commissions which are to be revised, and like questions occupied the minds of the electorate after their record-breaking turnout.

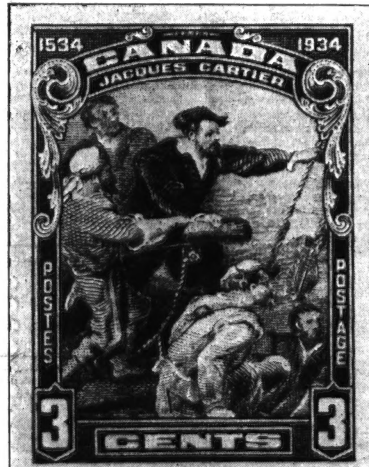

Aftermath of the Liberal avalanche, which swept Conservatives out of every seat west and north of Toronto and took six of Tory Ontario's 13 ridings, were suggestions of recounts in a few seats where the vote was close, and a few unofficial pleas to Conservative headquarters for consideration of a convention to choose a new leader and revise the platform.

Public Works Program

Federal Government Plans Expenditure Of Four Million Dollars

Ottawa.—The House of Commons has before it the government's public works construction program involving an expenditure of some $40,000,000 on building operations scattered over the whole Dominion. It is intended to provide employment and stimulate business and industrial recovery. With little discussion the house passed the resolution preliminary to the introduction of the bill to provide for the construction program and give first stamp to the bill.

SPECIAL STAMP COMMEMORATES DISCOVERY OF CANADA

Here is a reproduction of the special stamp to be issued by the Post Office to commemorate the 400th anniversary of the discovery of Canada by Jacques Cartier. The stamp is to be released on July 2nd.

WINS IN SASKATCHEWAN

JAMES G. GARDINER

Liberal leader of Saskatchewan, who was returned to power by a sweeping majority.

Saskatchewan Elections

Liberals Returned To Power By A Most Decisive Endorsement

Regina.—The Liberal party under the leadership of James G. Gardiner, were swept back into power in the Saskatchewan elections in a most emphatic manner. With the election of five or six Farmer-Labor candidates, the C.C.F. party will form the only opposition. Not a single Government supporter was elected.

In an interview, Premier-elect Gardiner said the legislature would be assembled as soon as possible. There may be a special session to repeal the School Legislation Act passed by the now-extinct Anderson government.

This legislation, which would automatically come into effect August 1, would place educational matters in the hands of a commission, and "take education out of politics"—as Premier Anderson contended. But it was diametrically opposed to the Liberal policy, said Mr. Gardiner, and he was looking into the legal aspects of the legislation to see if a special session would be necessary to preclude its going into effect.

The campaign had been cleanly fought. The issues were clear and the policy of the Liberal party to enforce economy in administration, effect reconstruction and to improve the trade relations of the Dominion with other countries had been clearly approved.

Deal With Sweepstakes

Informers May Be Unable To Collect Cash If Legislation Changed

Ottawa.—The provision of the criminal code which makes it possible for an informer to sue and obtain the proceeds of a lottery will disappear if the amendment introduced by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, minister of justice, passes the House of Commons.

The bill received first reading without discussion. Instead of the informer being able to obtain the proceeds, the measure provides that they shall be forfeited to the crown. The amendment does not apply to small raffles and church bazaars in which the amount involved is less than $50.

Much Depends On Weather

Moist Warm Days Will Greatly Lessen Grasshopper Menace

Saskatoon.—Extraordinarily early maturity of grasshoppers in Saskatchewan this year may save the crop from late damage by the flying hoppers, in the opinion of E. M. King, in charge of the Dominion entomological laboratory here. "If warm moist weather prevails, the mature hoppers quickly become infested with a disease which carries them off rapidly and the early development this year has pushed forward the mature age of the grasshopper into Saskatchewan's rainy season. Much depends on the weather. Given warmth and moisture the damage to crops by grasshoppers after the flying stage is reached may be much less than last year."

Gold Coinage Disappearing

Premier Bennett Predicts That Gold Redemption Of Currency Will Be Resumed

Ottawa.—Expressing the belief that gold redemption of currency would ultimately be resumed, Premier R. B. Bennett, in the House of Commons, prophesied that gold coinage would disappear.

Gold redemption would be resumed by the nations of the world "since apparently it is the only basis on which we can have any stability," but the redemption would be in bullion, not in coin.

SORDID DETAILS OF CONDITIONS IN SWEATSHOPS

Ottawa.—Sordid details of sweatshop conditions in eight shoe factories in different parts of Quebec were disclosed to the parliamentary committee on the proposed minimum wage bill. The committee was told that the shoe manufacturers were selected from advertisements placed by the Dominion government and the evidence probably will be passed on for prosecutions.

The committee ventured up another alley—wages paid in factories supplying goods to department stores. The Quebec shoe manufacturers were selected from advertisements placed by the Dominion government and the evidence probably will be passed on for prosecutions.

Here were the highlights of one plant:

It has made substantial profits for four years.

The average weekly wage paid women employees in October, 1933, was $8.75.

The average for 172 men was $9.39. Of the 172 men, 126 were married with 403 dependents.

Eighty-two men received less than $8 a week.

There were two accidents in one week—one operator lost a finger—from the owner of the factory leaning over the shoulders of his workers, shouting at them to speed up their work.

Fifty per cent. of the men and boys in the plant last October received less than the minimum wage set for inexperienced women. (The Quebec law, like Ontario's, does not touch men.)

One investigator asked a man how he existed on his wages. The reply was that four families lived in one house. The man himself ate one piece of bread for his lunch.

"But how can these people live," asked Sam Factor, Lib. Toronto.

"If I were the executive of a department store I certainly would inquire about such terrible wages."

The auditor told of conditions in another plant where 96 per cent. of the employees were paid below the legal minimum. In one department of 55 girls, only two made the minimum wage and boys received $2.50 and $3 for a week of 62 hours. In this factory, 83 per cent. of the men were paid 10 cents an hour or less.

There was an audible gasp in the committee room when the auditor told of work being done in home by adults and children. About $1.50 would be paid for jobs requiring 10 hours of work.

Another plant, dating back to 1898, discharged women workers who could not earn legal minimums but, on the other hand, paid extremely low wages to men. In the two weeks ending April 28, 1934, the company had 29 men and boys earning less than 10 cents an hour and whose weekly average was $2.85. One-half the men in the plant earned less than $6, the minimum for inexperienced women. The average for all men, excluding foremen, was $6.71 a week and for women, $7.37.

SAYS LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR IS NOT NECESSARY

St. Thomas, Ont.—"Lieutenant-Governor Herbert A. Bruce of Ontario is one of the finest gentlemen in the country, but I feel he should resign," said Mitchell F. Hepburn, premier-elect, in discussing the general election which resulted in a Liberal landslide.

"I stated, during the campaign, Ontario could carry on very well with the chief justice officiating," he declared. "Sir William Mulock, an aged gentleman, managed easily to sign the few orders-in-council and act as lieutenant-governor before Col. Bruce was appointed. I want to make it clear there is no personal animosity between Col. Bruce and myself. I am of the opinion that, since the people endorsed my statements by voting for my party, he should take cognizance of that fact."

"I certainly intend to hold a special session of the legislature to deal with the unemployment situation if Premier R. B. Bennett withdraws, as he has announced, federal government grants to direct relief. There will be no pomp and glory connected with the session, for we will simply meet and try to formulate a constructive unemployment policy to help our people."

"I am going to carry out my election promises—every one of them. Those high-salaried officials who have been living on the fat of the land at Queen's Park might as well start packing now, for as soon as I get control they will be removed from office."

Ottawa.—High officials of the Dominion government would not comment on the proposal of Mitchell Hepburn, premier-elect of Ontario, that Lieutenant-Governor H. A. Bruce should resign. It was explained that the office and duties of provincial lieutenant-governors were laid down in the British North America Act and that they were appointed by the Dominion government.

Section 58 of the British North America Act states that "for each province there shall be an officer, styled the lieutenant-governor, appointed by the governor-general-in-council by instrument under the great seal of Canada." A further section states that "the salaries and provided by the parliament of Canada."

Under constitutional procedure, Mr. Hepburn, as leader of the successful party in last Tuesday's election, will be summoned by Lieutenant-Governor Bruce when Premier Henry resigns and asked to form a government. He will be sworn in by the lieutenant-governor, and the legislature, when summoned, will be opened by the lieutenant-governor.

With respect to administrators, section 67 of the British North America Act states as follows: "The governor-in-council may, from time to time, appoint an administrator to execute the office and functions of lieutenant-governor during his absence, illness or other inability."

Bank Bill Approved

Ottawa.—The senate banking and commerce committee passed with two exceptions, the first 87 sections of the banking bill passed by the House of Commons, June 11. Section 53 dealing with annual and special statements of the chartered banks, and section 75, dealing with the business and powers of the banks, were held over for further consideration.

British Tariffs Attacked

Rome.—German and Italian delegates to an international world conference here attacked British Empire tariff preferences and threatened to curtail imports from such wool producing countries as refused to accept German industrial exports while giving preference to those of other countries.

Canadian Cheese Good

Ottawa.—The quality of Canadian cheese in the United Kingdom was so satisfactory that no suggestions were offered by the largest importers on how further improvements could be made, said J. S. Singleton, Dominion dairy commissioner, on his return from London and Liverpool.

Silver Export Higher

Ottawa.—Export of silver bullion in May more than doubled that of the corresponding month's last year, with a substantial increase was shown in the value of gold bullion exported, the Dominion bureau of statistics says in a report.

A LAUGH ON TODAY

Those whose memories carry them back to the early nineties will recall the furore created by a book of that period, "Looking Backward," by Edward Bellamy. The book recorded the experiences of a young man of 1887, who, under the influence of magnetism falls asleep, to waken in 2000 A.D. In 2000 A.D. he finds himself in the midst of a smooth-working socialized state, operating under rules and conditions utterly unimaginable in the competitive individualistic social warfare of 1887.

The book "Looking Backward," is being re-read today with the liveliest interest. In 1887, it was regarded as highly imaginative, and extraordinarily far-fetched. Today it may be accepted by an increasingly large number of people as a reasonable forecast of what may yet be and what could be. It is roughly in line with what a great number of people are thinking. That is the extent of the social progress of human beings in the past fifty years. Otherwise, although we have advanced scientifically beyond Bellamy's imaginings, our social conscience has seen little development in the past fifty years.

If you doubt it, listen to his description of society as functioning in that benighted era of 1887. "Society in these days was like a prodigious coach which the masses of humanity were harnessed to, and dragged toilsomely along a very hilly and sandy road. The driver was hungry, and permitted no lagging. The top of the coach was covered with people who never got down, even at the steepest ascents. Well up out of the dust, the occupants enjoyed the scenery, or critically discussed the merits of the straining harnessers. The competition for these places on the top was keen, and the rule was that a man could leave his seat as an inheritance to whomsoever he wished. These seats were very insecure, and passengers were constantly slipping off and compelled to help drag the coach. This insecurity quite clouded the happiness of those who rode."

"When the vehicle came to a particularly hard place, as it often did, the agonized plunging of the team under the lashing of hunger; the many who were trampled in the mire; made a very distressing spectacle. Those on the top would call encouragingly to the toilers, exhorting them to patience, and nothing out of hope of compensation in another world for their hard lot. Some even contrived to save and inanimate for crippled and injured. It was agreed that it was all a great pity, but it did enhance the sense of value of having seats on the top of the coach."

"Another hallucination of those on top of the coach was that they belonged to a inner clay than their brothers and sisters who pulled. And the strangest thing was that those who had just clumbed from the ground, began to feel under the influence of this hallucination before they had outgrown the marks of the rope on their hands."

"I am well aware that this will appear to the people of the twentieth century as incredibly inhuman, but one fact may explain it. It was sincerely believed that there was no other way in which society could get along, unless the many pulled the rope, and the few rode; and that no radical improvement was even possible either in the harness, the coach, the roadway, or the distribution of the toil."

It is quite a laugh on the social state of 1934, that we are still hauling the coach in the same old way.—High River Times.

or resolution the sanction of the Council; and no contract shall be entered into until the necessary appropriation shall have been made.

It has been suggested that a resolution was at some time passed by Council giving authority to any Committee of Council to make expenditures of small proportions but a By-Law of the Town cannot be amended by resolution and inconsequence By-Law No. 1 is still operative & must be recognized by Council until such time as it is amended by By-Law. This By-Law merely imposes on Council conditions recognized as essential by business firms and corporations in the expending of money and lays down rules for the proper governing of the finances of the Town.

There is no desire on the part of this Committee to inconvenience any other committee of Council but in our opinion altogether too much laxness has prevailed in purchases for the Town of Wainwright and we would recommend that the provisions of By-Law No. 1 be observed until such time as Council amend this By-Law in the proper manner.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The following report was then submitted by the Committee on Fire Light & Utilities, viz:

At the last regular meeting of Council, the attention of this Committee was called to certain criticisms directed to the Wainwright Fire Brigade as a result of the services rendered by the brigade on the occasion of a small fire on Sunday afternoon of the 24th instant. The Chairman of this Committee was absent from the meeting when this matter was introduced but the Committee has since fully investigated the incident and beg herewith to submit to Council our findings thereon.

It is unfortunate that at the time of the alarm on this occasion the Fire Chief was off duty for the afternoon as otherwise we are convinced no cause for complaint would have arisen. It was equally unfortunate that, in the absence of the Fire Chief, the men who occupy fire rooms in the Fire Hall were not qualified and ready to assume the duties and render the services, which Council have the right to expect and to which Council is justly entitled. If Council place men in these rooms without any reference to this Committee, Council must assume responsibility for failure of the brigade when called upon and this Committee should not be held responsible on this occasion. On the other hand, if this Committee is allowed to make its own selection of the men placed in these rooms, this Committee is prepared to assume responsibility for the services to be rendered by the brigade under control of Council. Until such time as Council is prepared to place these rooms at the disposal of this Committee, the vacuum, we will not hold ourselves responsible for the proper working of the brigade.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

On motion, it was unanimously resolved that the report of the Fire Light & Utilities Committee be accepted and incorporated in the proceedings of the meeting and the matter of placing these rooms at the disposal of the committee be referred to Council.

On motion, it was unanimously resolved that, in accordance with the request of the Fire, Light & Utilities Committee, this Council do hereby request that rooms occupied by firemen be vacated and that the Fire, Light & Utilities Committee be placed in charge of these rooms.

The Committee on Parks & Cemetery submitted the following report, viz:

Since our last report, we have had a cement foundation placed under the building in the Cemetery and certain repairs made to the roof and the inside plaster of the building. The cost for material for these improvements and repairs amounts to $22.65. We have also paid $10.00 on account of labor, the balance of the latter being applied to arrears of taxes.

After due consideration, we have concluded that it is wiser to place the building instead of having it painted at this time. We have made inquiry and have ascertained that material for stucco work will cost $24.50 and much of the labor required would be applied upon arrears of taxes. This with a small amount of painting instead of having it painted at this time. A meeting of the Council of the Municipal District of Grizzly Bear, No. 455, was held in the Office at Wainwright on Saturday, June 16th. Reeve Shane taking the chair at 10:40 A.M. All the Councillors in attendance.

Minutes of previous Meeting were read and on motion, adopted. G. Crutcher made complaint that the party who had occupied the house on W 16 43.6 during the past winter now refused to vacate. Council, on Advice, agreed that formal notice to vacate be given, and if necessary that forcible ejection be made.

Two representatives from Lamont Public Hospital interviewed the Council regarding delinquent rates payers bills, some of which dated back to 1928. Eventually a compromise settlement was made.

Report was made of a road grant from Provincial Government of $580, and Mr. Ritchie, Road Engineer, waited on the Council in regard to conditions. Allocation of the grant on to various roads, work on main roads in Divisions 3, 4, & 6. A representative from the Salvation Army waited on the Council, when on motion of Messrs. Symes & Nash a grant of $25.00 was allowed for their Rescue work.

Matter of Farm Weeds and Weed Inspection was considered, and Mr. Len. Kehoe was appointed Weed Inspector for the Season remuneration to be $3 per day and 8 cents per mile.

Two applications for Relief from Div. 3, were submitted, and lines for societies on Autumn Leaf Store were given.

Claims for land taken for Road deviations were submitted from the Hudson Bay Company. Payment was agreed to for 1.09 acres required from N.W. 84.76 while account of $7.16 for road way out of W. 46.49.54 was thought excessive and better terms were asked for. Offers to rent for the current season for N.E. 44.94 by J. Wylie, were agreed to. The Master's approval of Sale of six quarters of land to three purchasers was laid on table.

Note made of acceptance of the Vermilion Hospital.

Letters were read from the surveys Branch Public Works Department regarding a proposed subway on S.E. 25.47.5 and a road deviation on 34.47.5 and 34.5.5.4. A new survey being required. Request for fencing at expense of the Municipality on East side of Sec. 7.49.5 was not favored.

Accounts submitted and ordered paid were: A. Leaf School District, $45.00; Bannwood School, $25.00; Battleville, $250.00; Clare, $73.00; Ganton, $180.00; Giles, $46.00; Heatherbell, $90.00; Herbert, $40.00; Kokue, $110.00; Moyerton, $76.00; Optimist, $90.00; Preston, $260.00; Turkey Hill, $75.00; Union, $90.00; Vanest, $200.00; Watson, $225.00; White Cloud, $62.00; Wildwood, $300.00; Willowby, $232.00; Windermere, $200.00; Hudson Bay Company, $17.96; Salvation Army, $25.00; Steel Products Company, $56.70; F. Morrison, $25.00; Richardson Company, $58.00; Lamont Public Hospital, $150.00; Radway School Homes, $60.15. Council adjourned.

We, therefore, recommend that this Committee be authorized to proceed with the stuccoing and painting of this building. All of which is respectfully submitted.

On motion, the report of the Parks & Cemetery Committee was accepted and incorporated in the proceedings of the meeting and the Committee authorized to proceed with the contemplated improvements, having regard to the cost figures submitted as well as to the amounts payable in cash.

The Property, Assessment and By-Laws Committee reported progress in the matter of amending By-Law Number 192 of the Town of Wainwright and promised to submit an amending By-Law at the next regular meeting of Council.

On motion, Council was regularly adjourned.

The Christian's Assurance

BY

REV. T. EDGAR ARMSTRONG, B.A.; B.D.
Pastor Wainwright United Church

Text: Psalm 16:8. I have set the Lord always before me because He is at my right hand I shall not be moved.

Assurance? Some have it: others lack it. Many of us would give a good deal to possess it. It has dynamic qualities and we all need those very qualities in our lives. It is interesting to follow the Psalmist Sometimes he is crying in the presence of his foe: his enemies are overpowering him. At other times there is the note of assurance. A poise and self-control characterize his entire conduct. "The Lord is at my right hand I shall not be moved."

When Shalchaneh and his comrades were fighting their slow, impossible way across that frozen land chilled to the very soul, with heads bowed low against the icy blizzards, with weak and stumbling feet and half dead with fatigue, they came through, so later they confessed to one another, though at the time they said no word of it, only because each of them felt "Some one else was there more than they could see." We, too, have come through so far only because there has been Some One beside us. We have not known it, could see—because always a Voice
has aroused us when we fell asleep, always a Hand has pulled us back when, unknowingly, we were tottering on the sheer edge of some precipice, always there has been One who saved us.

This sense of being accompanied has brought to us assurance and confidence. We have done what otherwise we would never have done. We have been inspired to attempt and achieve. We come to know something of what the writer meant when he perused these words: "Lead me at the heart and let the world come on."

Should I discuss with you the need of assurance. I trust I am not overstepping the mark when I take that for granted. So overwhelming are the facts of life about us that we stand awed and cry with Paul "Who is sufficient for these things?" Who can cope with disease, suffering, poverty, unemployment, international suspicion and ill-will? The master minds of the world are perplexed.
We need some heartening message,
some re-assuring experience upon which we can stand. We need to learn with Paul "Our sufficiency is of God."

The Disciples upon the storm tossed sea cried "Master carest thou not that we perish?" In response He arose and rebuked the wind and said to the sea "Peace be still." And there was a great calm. A calm on the sea but also a calm in their hearts. They had a new assurance from His kindly care for them. We need such an assurance.

What does the Bible and History teach?

The salient truth of the Bible is that men did have assurances. Their conduct, otherwise unaccountable, is explained on that ground. Their assurances have dynamic qualities.

Noah pursued the tedious task of building an ark. He spent one hundred and twenty years in so doing and during those years had the assurance of doing God's will. I fancy he often heard the jibe of his critics but undimmed he worked on.
Abraham went out seeking a land which he would receive for an inheritance.
He had the assurance of God's promise, which cannot fail.

Joshua succeeded Moses. It was he who led the children of Israel in to Canaan and, even though he had to fight for possession of the land, he had the assurance that it was God's gift.

Elijah challenged the prophets of Baal to a contest. The god who answered by fire was the God in Israel. He was confident that Jehovah would triumph.

Need I speak of the Prophets who in the presence of great obstacles, uttered their messages. One finds in a cursory review of the prophecies that the passage "The word of the Lord came unto—" is the most frequently found. They had a trying place with God. The assurance that the Lord stood behind them and that they were His mouthpiece is borne out in their words and conduct.

Confident men beget confidences.

The Crusaders went forth to regain the tomb of Christ from the Saracens. They felt that the law of Divine retribution ought to work out against the Turks and in that confidence they went forth. The Scottish Covenanters stood adamant against Charles and the signing of the covenant brought a sense of unity, strength, courage and assurance to them. They were invincible.

May I speak of the first Epistle of John as an Epistle of Certainty.
Written presumably by the aged John it is age and maturity speaking in confidence and assurance to younger folks and little children. "I write unto you fathers because ye have known Him, that is from the beginning." I write unto you young men because ye have over come the wicked one. I write unto you little children because ye have known the Father. "Beloved believe not every spirit." "Beloved if God so loved us,
we ought also to love one another."

The whole letter teems with confidence and fatherly assurance. St.
John has been so long on the Mount of Communion with God that his very words when the veil is taken off them, shine. "Because He is at my right hand I shall not be moved."

There is no more ultimate criterion of truth than that which satisfies one, but this thing must continue to be true in all the most opposite circumstances of life. Will assurances help in dark and bright days alike? Will they minister to us in the valley as well as on the mountain top? Certainly they will aid in the most diverse circumstances.

What gains does Christian Assurance bring? First one will satisfy fears. Fear inhibits thought, speech and action. We fall again and again through our fears. Sometimes we are guilty of suggesting failure to people. That is a very wrong thing to do. It is need to build up assurances. We must generate confidence in people themselves and in a friendly personality who stands behind the maze of phenomena and with whom we can ally ourselves. Sometimes we hear people speak of nature as being ruthless. Friend, if nature had been ruthless through the years where would we be? Perhaps human-nature is not as kind as nature and we have our fears and forebodings.
We fear disease, want, loss of prestige, loss of our job, yes, there are a score of causes for fear. We need assurances to set us on our feet, anticipates. "Because I have this, the Lord always before me I shall not be moved." Can we with the Psalmist find that assurance by placing God and His thought as central in our lives. Let us read Psalm 97 and be re-hearted for the life of faith. "Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him." The second gain in assurance will be manifest in zeal and perseverance. People display zeal in any new phase of life and work. You might enroll an army in a new cause,
but the question of staying power is of vital importance. We give over so easily and every desecrator affects the cause. To set the Lord's interests before us would revive and re-enthuse us. We need to re-evaluate the moral struggle and have the conviction of ultimate victory. That should generate perseverance.

Again assurance would give poise and perspective. One often feels at the poise of our great statesmen,
so much live under great strain.
They are as much at home in the palace as we are in the paltry round of our lives. Their policy is clear and they feel the cause with which they have allied themselves is worthy. Under that assurance they are indefatigable workers.
Need we have any fears as to the worthwhileness of the things offered in the religion of Jesus Christ.

These are trying days. We appear to be in much the same position in which the disciples found themselves in one occasion. Many had deserted and Jesus said "Will ye

AUBURNDALE GOSSIP

(To Late For Last Week)

Mrs. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. W.
J. Seale and Essie Miskimins left for the east to visit old friends and old haunts in Quebec.

Miss Ellie Cleland has spent the past week in Edmonton, as the representative from the Auburndale Junior, at the Junior Conference of the U. F. A.

Mr. A. Milits left Wednesday for Edmonton. He is going to bring his bride. We all join in wishing them every success and happiness in their future life.

Miss Kathleen Kinghorn and Miss Dorothy Hetherington were the guests of Mrs. G. Kent at tea, Friday afternoon.

Miss Alice Caron has gone to Edmonton for her bridal outfit. We hear the wedding bells will ring soon.
The district is not feeling the depression so badly. Crops are in excellent condition. Roadwork is in full swing also.

His many friends were glad to hear that Mr. Kenneth Kennedy is on the go again after his accident.

We hear rumors of a grand picnic
in the Hetherbell district on June 29. There is to be horse races, chariot races, baseball, softball, etc.
Don't forget the dance with Co-man's orchestra. Everybody come.

The U. F. W. A. are holding a strawberry and ice cream social at the home of Mrs. Everett, June 20th.
Everybody welcome.

What Will Alonder???

We wonder why Dorothy is wearing a mile these days? (We hear of new dresses and trips to Rodman and visitors.) We wonder when the shower will be? (Save your pennies for the rolling pin.)

We wonder what the attraction in this district is for Kathleen? (We hear rice was found in the "Ghost.")

Why Don't McLaughlin looks so sad and finds Sunday so long?
Why Camille finds some weeks so long? (He thought the day of the Stampede would never come.)

If a certain young gentleman or the district has cut his wisdom teeth
yet. (The sage he'll be able to find the gate better.)

If those from this district, who went, enjoyed the music in the Plax-ton school, and where they parked their car?

Why it is so hard for some of the people of the district to decide whether to go east or not. (Perhaps they are afraid to leave the good man alone that long??)

The imbecility of keeping up a million dollar front on a jitney income now seems apparent to everyone except Legislators.

Rev. J. R. Geeson was in Wainwright on business Friday.

also go away." With amenment Peter said "Lord to whom can we go.
Thou hast the words of Eternal Life.
To whom can we go today for the regeneration of individuals homes and Society. Faced with the alternatives of loyalty to the cause of Jesus Christ and the labors involved in making his kingdom a reality or turning away from it to the unknown untied phantasies of men we pledge our allegiance anew to Him. We feel with the Psalmist when he said
"I'd rather be a door keeper in the house of my God than to dwell in tents of wickedness."

We have the conviction that there is no other foundation laid than that which is laid by Jesus Christ.
We look for a city, but the builder and maker is God, with that assurance in our hearts we labor on. The Psalmist said "My help cometh from the living God." So does ours and with the assurance that "God is behind the man who wants to be done with the bad" may we with renewed enthusiasm take up our tasks and experience the feeling of the Psalmist when he wrote our text.

My Desire

That I may do some little thing,
Which happens to you will bring;
Something to help you on your way,
To guide your steps when prone to stray
Is my desire.

That I may touch your heart with song,
And make it glad the whole day
long;
That you, in turn, may comfort
bring,
To some poor soul now suffering
Is my desire.

That all would show by kindly deeds,
How each can help the other's needs;
That love in every heart be found
And joy in all the world abound
Is my desire.

AHIAJAH AND THE DIVIDED KINGDOM

Golden Text: "Pride goeth before destruction, And a haughty spirit before a fall." Proverbs 16:18

Lesson: I Kings 11:26-43-31.

Devotional Reading: Proverbs 1:20-26.

Explanations And Comments

Jeroboam's Rise To Power, 11:26-28. Jeroboam, a young man of the northern tribe of Ephraim, was among the subjects of Solomon.

engaged in forced labor upon the adornment of Jerusalem, his capital. Solomon observed his efficiency and made him overseer of all the relays of labor furnished by the house of Joseph—the tribes of Ephraim and Manasse—

a position which enabled Jeroboam to stir up his fellow laborers' jealousy of the Southern tribes and hatred of Solomon the oppressor.

Ahijah's Symbolic Act And Its Meaning, 11:29-33. One day, as Jeroboam was leaving Jerusalem, intent on thinking, no doubt, of how he would "lift up his hand against the king" (see verses 26, and 37), the prophet Ahijah met him. The latter had come from the sanctuary at Shiloh for the purpose of delivering a message to Saul, 11:24-27. Ahijah told him of the new garment he was wearing and tore it into twelve pieces, ten of which he handed to Jeroboam, saying that the kingdom was to be taken away from King Solomon and Jeroboam should be ruler over ten of the tribes. It was quite customary to enforce important communications by symbolic acts. Compare I Kings 22:11; Isaiah 20; Jeremiah 19:1-12; Ezekiel 12; Zechariah 11:7, 10, 14.

The Condition To Be Fulfilled, I Kings 11:37-39. Ahijah repeated God's promise that Jeroboam should be king over Israel. "The seed fell on prepared soil, and Jeroboam's formed plans would be consolidated, and the scene is like that in which the witches foretell to Macbeth his dignity. Slumbering ambitions are stirred, and a half-inclined will is finally disclosed by this glimpse into the future."

There was, however, a condition to be fulfilled. He would have a "sure house," or long line of descendants upon the throne of Israel, provided he hearkened unto God's commands and kept them as David had done. The condition was not fulfilled, and his house came to an end in the second generation.

Newest In Air Transport

German Inventor Has Patent For Steam-Driven Plane

Another invention in connection with airplanes is being talked of in Europe. It is stated that this promises to be the most revolutionary development in air transport since the first aeroplane was built and is foreshadowed by a German inventor. He has just patented a steam-driven aeroplane which he claims will fly at 270 miles an hour for sixty hours or more non-stop. This astonishing claim means that any ordinary aeroplane could attain Schneider trophy speeds; and that an airman could fly from Europe to the Far East or South Africa in three days without coming down for fuel. Crossing the Atlantic to North or South America would be a short and easy journey.

The inventor is named Huetner and he is managing engineer of the biggest power station in Berlin, a man whose reputation would not allow him to make wild claims. His revolutionary new engine is a steam turbine, of the type used in ships, and he has succeeded in making it so light that it is no heavier in proportion to horsepower than the present petrol aero engines. Moreover, there is no risk of fire and explosion, which now costs so many airmen's lives—

Is Really Resting

The woman who dances on spindly heeled shoes is really resting, the West Virginia Osteopathic Society was told. "When a woman puts on high-heeled slippers and goes out to dance she is giving her feet a beneficial treat," said Dr. H. E. C. Bourne, of Columbus, O. "The change to high-heeled slippers changes the muscular pull of all the muscles and gives the feet a rest."

Little Journeys In Science

ANAESTHETICS

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

As claimed as "God's greatest mercy brought by man to man," ether was first used in surgical operations nearly 58 years ago. The first demonstration took place in the Massachusetts General hospital at Boston on October 16, 1846, when William T. G. Morton, a young Boston dentist, demonstrated that this anaesthetic could be used successfully in the performing of operations. Although Dr. Morton is credited with giving the first demonstration of the use of this anaesthetic before a group of medical men it is understood that a Dr. C. W. Long, of Jefferson, Georgia, had previously used it to some extent in his practice. Following Dr. Morton's demonstration, the use of ether was quickly adopted by medical men on this continent and abroad. This new development brought about a great revolution in surgery and did away with the gruesome scenes which had formerly been associated with operations during which the patient did not lose consciousness.

In 1844 Humphry Davy, the English scientist known throughout the world for his invention of the Davy Safety Lamp, used by miners, did some work with nitrous oxide, better known as laughing gas. This gas proved to be a satisfactory general anaesthetic and is widely used for this purpose.

With the discovery of ether and laughing gas, scientists became interested in this new field and it was not long before chloroform was produced. Dr. James G. Simpson and Thomas Nunally being outstanding in this work.

Ethylene is another anaesthetic which was introduced in later years, and which was found to have many advantages for surgical work. Acetylene is also used as an anaesthetic, but is not as common as the others.

In addition to the value of anaesthetics in relieving suffering during operations, they have benefited humanity greatly by making it possible for scientists to study various diseases and to find cures for them. Animals, studied under the influence of anaesthetics have been the objects of many researches which have brought about great benefits to the race.

New Super-Cunarder

Surprising Details Of Vessel Now Being Built In Clydebank Shipyard

The enormous size of the funnels to be placed on the new super-Cunarder, now designated as the 534 the Clydebank shipyard, Glasgow, may be visualized when compared with the various tubes and tunnels in operation in New York City. The giant liner's stacks will be in the neighborhood of 100 feet in circumference. The diameter will be approximately 20 feet. Thus it will be greater than any of the following: Holland Tube, 29 feet 6 inches; Pennsylvania R.R. Tubes, 23 feet; East River Tubes, 23 feet; New York Central Tunnel, 25 feet; Hudson River Tunnel, 15 feet, 9 inches; 60th Street Tunnel, 18 feet.

The forward funnel will be more than 70 feet in height from the boat deck, the two other funnels decreasing in height from the keel to the top of the forward funnel will be approximately 180 feet, equivalent in height to a building of 15 stories. The final design of the funnels was reached after many demonstrations in a specially constructed wind tunnel. More than 30 model funnels were test.

A highly important job is taking place in the shipyard in connection with the fitting of the immense rudder. Constructed at Darlington, it weighs nearly 140 tons and is by far the largest ever made. It is at present in the shipyard at Clydebank where expert workmen are engaged in assembling the various component parts. When this job is completed and tests carried out to ensure that every detail in the fitting is perfect, the rudder will be dismantled and transported in sections to the liner's berth where it will be re-assembled and fitted on to the ship.

Other tests which have been carried out include those to determine the design and form of the liner, in which over sixteen models were used and over four thousand experimental runs carried out in the experimental tank. Wind tunnel experiment in which models of 30 funnels were used, to decide the design and shape of the great funnels and to make sure that the decks and ventilators of the ship will be kept clear of funnel blast and the experiment made to ascertain the exact position on the bows of the hawsepipes. For the latter purpose shipwrights erected in the shipyard a wooden replica of the immense bow of Number 534 and with a model of the hawsepipes and another model of the anchors a series of tests were made, perfection in design being finally achieved.

In the series of cabins being constructed ashore for testing purposes, everything that goes into a stateroom in three classes of accommodation will be given a critical try-out. The rooms will be exact replicas of similar rooms which it is intended to build into the ship.

The designers and furnishing experts will fit out the model rooms down to the last detail. Numerous designs in wall decorations, curtains, carpets, and other hangings will be tried out; furniture, bed, wardrobes, easy chairs, etc., will be installed until the experts are satisfied that the decorative and furnishing schemes provide the maximum of comfort and restfulness.

An important feature will be the demonstrations carried out in regard to the heating, lighting and ventilation of the rooms. Scores of these experiments will be made to make certain that the perfect ease and comfort of the passengers will be assured.

These model cabin experiments are another remarkable instance of the meticulous care and attention which is being paid to the construction of this great ship.

Journey To North

Party Of Students To Take 1,000 Mile Voyage Down Mackenzie River

Bayne Beauchamp, Honolulu English professor, will lead a party of 11 "tanned" white boys from Punahoa school, Honolulu, and four American lads on a 1,000 mile voyage this summer down the Mackenzie river, through the vast territories and into sub-Arctic Canada. In boats they will build themselves at Athabasca, Alta.

Tentative plans call for an overland trip by automobile to Edmonton, then on to Athabasca, where they will construct ice boats for the trip down the Mackenzie to Alkivik. After a summer of exploration and field study, they will travel by aeroplane over the Divide to Nome, Alaska, or Valdez Island.

Many Items Of Interest To The Western Farmer

Tests at the Rowett Institute, Scotland, showed that oats made a suitable feed for pigs in any form except oatmeal.

Pneumonia among goats was introduced into Greece from Asia Minor in 1920 and has recurred every year up to 1921.

During the month of April, 4,866,537 bushels of wheat were ground in Canadian mills. The daily capacity of mills reporting during the month amounted to 94,795 bushels.

In Canadian first grade creamery butter, salting must all be dissolved and not over two per cent. in butter for the British market unless the tender is notified that the butter is for a special market.

The chief object of the new Canadian rules and regulations governing commercial poultry hatcheries is to ensure an adequate supply of chicks at commercial prices and of such quality that they will develop into profitable producers on the farms.

Flour production in Canada for the month of April amounted to 1,088,785 barrels, which was higher than for the corresponding month of last year, when 1,013,486 barrels were produced, and slightly above the production of the previous month.

Nitrogen is taken up by plants from the soil in the form of nitrates, but however abundant the nitrates may be they cannot be utilized by plants unless a suitable supply of water because nitrates enter the root in solution.

Well over one half of the wheat acreage of North Africa is devoted to durum wheat, Algeria and Morocco seeding particularly high proportions of this kind. The main markets for North African wheat are found in France and Italy.

Remarkably vigorous tomato plants have been grown out of doors at Fairbanks, Alaska, under continuous daylight for six weeks, despite the reports that daily artificial, or artificial and daylight exposures of 17 hours or more are injurious to tomatoes.

Trials at the Kentucky Experiment Station of fermenting cornstarch as a substitute for horse manure for feeding hogs indicated certain advantages for the cornstarch, such as greater uniformity of heat, provided the stalks were cut into short lengths and thoroughly wetted.

Experiments in banana breeding have been carried on at the Imperial College of Tropical Agriculture at Trinidad, British West India, since its inception as the West India Tropical College in 1922. This is of special interest to Canada on account of the Dominion's close business relations and active participation in the banana trade of the West Indies.

Care Of Rubber Belting

Vegetable Castor Oil Will Keep It In Good Condition

A cheap and effective method of keeping a rubber belt in condition and to prevent slippage is to apply 20 to 30 drops of vegetable castor oil once a week on a small rubber belt, or about one-fourth to one-half ounce on a main drive belt. Mineral oil of any kind should never be used on rubber belts. Most commercial belt dressings are not suitable for rubber belting and should not be used except on the advice of the belting manufacturer. Rubber belts should be left on the pulleys, day and night, rain or shine.

OCCASIONAL WIFE

By EDNA ROBB WEBSTER
Author of "Joretta", "Lipstick Girl", etc.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla, Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, desiring to live their own lives apart until Peter is able to provide for her. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to win a competition for a scholarship abroad and Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money when she comes of age and so is studying commercial art in the hope of landing an agency job. Others in the story are Avia Wren, another wealthy girl who is trying to win Peter, Sylvia Todd, Peter's mother, and Gun Matson, his former roommate with whom he has quarrelled.

After a party at an exclusive club where the rest of the members of the party go a cabaret to continue the party, Peter and Camilla slip off to the beach by themselves and fall asleep on the sand. When they awake it is early morning and Peter and another boy are standing near them. This makes it necessary for Camilla to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Camilla urges Peter to accept some of her earnings to help him along, but Peter refuses and they quarrel. After Camilla has gone from the studio, Avia Wren calls and persuades Peter to accept a loan of $1,000. Peter finishes his exhibit and asks Avia Wren for suggestions as to a name for it. Camilla suggests "Eager Youth," and Avia "Inspiration". Peter adopts the latter title and Camilla, heartless goes to Peter's studio for work and to think. Peter and Avia follow later, and the lights are turned on, see the statue has been shattered to pieces. Avia accuses Camilla of doing this and Camilla, stunned by the disaster, and hurt and horrified by the accusation, faints.

At Camilla's suggestion, Peter enters as his exhibit a statue he had sculptured especially for her wedding gift. They named it "Land of Hope".

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER XLIX.

Peter refused to comply with Camilla's plans that he should come to her apartment for a week of rest, and to get away from his work.

"What's the big idea of that?" he wanted to know. "Nothing for me to do there, and you are away all day."

"But it's a pleasant place to rest and I thought it would be a good change for you."

"Say, I'm no invalid. I have to be busy—doing something. You don't suppose I'm going to wait around for that exhibit piece, expecting to win, do you?" He laughed ironically. "From now on, I am going to accomplish something worthwhile. I already have a standing order from Avia and I'm going to get to work on it."

At every mention of Avia's name Camilla experienced a shock of pained remembrance and hate. There could be but one explanation of her ready accusation of Camilla after the tragedy. She was trying desperately to separate her from Peter's love. Camilla held fast to the belief that she never could do that, however.

Peter was changed, but not because his love for her had changed. It was his work and anxiety and then the final crushing disappointment, that had made him seem distant and gloomy. She did not win him and yielded to do something for him which would restore him to the normal sunny Peter of the springtime of their love.

on the lake, where I can work and you can do nothing but plan for us and inspire me. That shouldn't be so very far away, lovable."

"I hope it isn't," Camilla agreed. "By that time, I shall have proved to myself either that I can or can't be a success in my own work, and then I'll be ready to resign and just be Peter Anson's wife."

"And will that be a big enough ambition for you?" he asked anxiously.

"That is my greatest ambition, and it isn't such a life one as you may think," she laughed.

"My precious!" The declaration remained her of those early days of their marriage. It didn't seem possible that so many unpleasant and tragic things had happened since then. He continued, quietly. "I guess you're right. It takes a woman with brains and some cleverness to keep a man in line, in step and inspired with the cause; to march forward, show courage, keep faith and win out. But I picked a woman who can do it if anyone can."

"Dear Peter," Camilla laughed fondly, "you could do all the alone, without me; but with love, the venture will be no much more worth the effort."

"Don't I know it? That is all that makes it mean anything."

They never referred again to the catastrophe of the broken figure, never ventured to guess who might have been responsible. It was so futile, anyway; the thing was done, an irreparable loss. And each of them was reluctant to enter into that tedious void of doubt and accusation and wonder where they had faced each other once for just a few horrible moments. They evaded that experience with dread.

This delightful solitude of shared understanding and faith was so much more in keeping with the beauty of their love, that they kept within its boundaries even as one who drives along a smooth highway without venturing into uncertain by-roads and dangerous places.

Together, they collected dry wood for a crackling, standing fire, watched the gray smoke curl upward and the red coals emerge which drew them near the glowing warmth with the early retreat of the sun and the hushed approach of twilight.

Peter broiled the big club steaks on a diminutive grill over the fire, their succulent flavor mingled with the aroma of bubbling coffee, pungent smoke and sharp tang of autumn air. They dined leisurely in the firelight, and turned again reluctantly toward the strife of toil and heartache, building fortunes and dodging traffic that is known as civilization.

Villagers Fear Big Gun

Heavy Artillery To Be Tested Near Shooberyness, England

Britain's latest monster gun, said to be of 15-in. calibre and destined for the great Singapore naval base, on which work is being hurriedly pushed ahead, will be tested near Shooberyness, England.

The three greatest pieces of heavy artillery in the world are to be included.

At least one of them is to have its firing trials there, and people over a wide area already suffering from the blowing out of windows and the cracking of ceilings from the reverberation of guns at the Coast Artillery school, are frankly scared by the thought of what the effect of firing the latest giant may be.

An emplacement 30 feet deep, with a diameter of about 100 feet, has been sunk and gun-mountings have been constructed in 24 feet of concrete.

It is said that the gun will be fired without anybody being in the pit with it, the loading by crane, and the firing being automatically controlled.

Military police patrols have now been introduced and the villagers always kept away from the isolated spot where the gun is to be mounted, find their freedom more restricted than ever.

A Leicester, Eng., father, two sons and two daughters are drawing old-age pensions, the father being 94, his sons 70 and 68 and his daughters 72 and 67.

Will Not Be Exhibited

Inventor Consents To Suppression Of Death Ray Machine

An outstanding invention of the century, a death ray machine, will not be exhibited at the National Inventors' Congress at Omaha, Nebraska, President A. G. Burns, Oklahoma City, told delegates.

The invention has been suppressed by the United States government, with the consent of the inventor, Burns said. He said the machine, capable of killing birds in flight two blocks away, was perfected by Dr. Antonio Longoria, a Cleveland, Ohio, physician and electrical engineer.

"I witnessed a demonstration of the machine, by invitation in Cleveland last October," Burns said. "It resembles a motion-picture projection machine in appearance. Several government scientists were there."

"Dr. Longoria turned the ray on rabbits, dogs and cats. They fell over, instantly killed, their blood turned to water. The same thing happened to pigeons, seagulls and all kinds of birds. The ray was so powerful it flew quite a distance. They fluttered to the ground and were dead when picked up."

Because of its terrible death-dealing possibilities, Dr. Longoria, according to Burns, readily agreed with government representatives that the machine be suppressed.

Sun Spots And Weather

More Rain And Fewer Grasshoppers Is Indication

Cheering words for agriculturists of Western Canada were issued by A. W. Meggett, past president of the Winnipeg Astronomical Society, who predicted more rain and fewer grasshoppers are indicated for Manitoba and the west between now and 1938.

The reason for his assertion is that spots on the sun are approaching their maximum period. Since 1928, Mr. Meggett explained, the last time at which sun spots were at their maximum, the sun has been fairly quiet. There has been a falling off of rain, and insects, including grasshoppers, have been multiplying.

"Records kept in Manitoba since 1885," he said, "show that where there has been a maximum sunspot period, there has also been a minimum grasshopper period."

"As the number and size of the sun spots increase, the amount of ultra-violet rays also increases, playing havoc with the insect world, and bringing increased rain because the electrification of the upper atmosphere helps to form cloud particles with more abundant water vapor."

LOVES CROWN

Nothing of this did you speak, O, my love,

When you came my way;

Only your voice was the voice of a dove

And your words were gay.

Laughter was light upon your lips, and the east

Showed me the blue blue;

Garlands you wore me for life's waiting feast

When I went with you!

Nothing of this, O, my love, did you tell

And I tremble now;

Strangely the winds to a tempest

And the creaking bough

Splinters and falls in the gusts of life

That are swooping down;

Yet, how is it your garlands frail

Have become a crown?

For Quick Relief Say ASPIRIN—When You Buy

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuralgia, toothaches, colds, and all the aches and pains that afflict you. It is said, get discovered.

When you buy, though, be sure you get a genuine Aspirin Tablet. It begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence to start "taking hold" of your troubles after taking.

The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. An Aspirin Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And this is ready to go to work almost instantly. When you buy, though, be sure you get ASPIRIN's quick relief, be sure the name Bayer in the form of a cross is on every tablet of Aspirin.

Drop an Aspirin Tablet in a glass of water. Note that BEFORE it touches the bottom, it has started to disintegrate. What it does in your stomach. Hence its fast action.

Curiosities In Siam

Natives Regard Weird Things In Nature As Spirits

Weird curiosities of nature, feared by natives as spirits, were found in remote parts of Siam by Dr. Hugh M. Smith when he collected zoological material for the Smithsonian Institution. In the mountains of northern Siam Dr. Smith pitched camp on a river bank covered with a living carpet of deadly longhairs, with legs nearly three inches long. The entire surface of the land seemed to be in motion. When the creatures became active at dusk they made a noise like falling raindrops as they moved over the leaves on the hillside. On one expedition Dr. Smith ascended the reputedly "haunted" mountain. On the grass-grown summit he found pine and chestnut trees garlanded with hanging orchids, and with little gibbons leaping among the branches. This cloudland forest contained chattering monkeys, barking deer, several species of squirrels including one rare giant form, bamboo rats, porcupines and black bears.

A New-Found Continent

Discovered On Pacific Floor By Echoes From Depth Divers

Mountains higher than Mount Everest, huge plateaus twice the width of America and great depths that drop more than six miles downwards—these are characteristics of a new-found "continent." This hitherto unknown territory stretches between the coasts of the North Pacific. It was discovered by echoes from the depth finder in the U.S.S. Ramapo. The Ramapo has been on a survey of the Pacific ocean bottom. It found that the submerged territory is not marked by steep depths in the usual manner of the North Pacific. In fact, appears to be a raised eastern shoulder of the submerged continent, but the west coast of Asia shows a series of tremendous depths. From north to south in the west portion of the "continent" is a mammoth mountain ridge with towering peaks which are known to Pacific mariners as islands, banks and reefs.

Deer Causes Grief

Jumps Over Railway Gas Car And Injures Two Men

The antics of a frightened deer sent two men to hospital at Sioux Outlook, Ont. The deer jumped over a speeding gas car on the Canadian National Railways and swept Pete Pohoric and Steve Illichuk off the platform.

The men were found lying in a dazed condition near the tracks. Illichuk, with a broken leg and Pohoric badly shaken up.

Spend Life in Prison

When the Nicholson was, railroad pioneers of Alberta, celebrated their 75th birthday this year, it marked the 73rd year spent together. They were separated for two years when Peabody immigrated from Keswick, Cumberland, England, in 1886, but letters, describing the new country, brought George out in 1888.

Little Helps For This Week

"Blessed be the Lord who daily leadeth us with benefits." Psalm 118:20.

Source of life's refreshing springs. Whose presence in my heart sustains me. Thy love ordains me pleasant things. Thy mercy orders all that pains me.

When I survey the occurrences of my life, and call to account the finger of God, I can perceive nothing but an abyss and mass of mercies, either in general to mankind or in particular to myself. Those things which others term crosses, afflictions, judgments, or misfortunes, to me are signs—fingerings—of his love—showing their visible effects they both appear and have ever proved the secret and dissembled favours of His affection.—Sir T. Browne.

British Speed Ace Beaten

Youth Defeats Malcolm Campbell In Home-Made Car

A youngster in what was virtually a home-made car had the thrill of beating Sir Malcolm Campbell—holder of the world's fastest land speed record. It happened at Brooklands in the fourth race.

He was W. E. Harker and he proudly called his car a Harker Special. It was driven by two small M.G. engines coupled up with great skill by this young engineer. Campbell's car was the giant super-turbo, 3,976 c.c. The Harker Special was only 1,492 c.c.

Campbell started scratch. Mr. Harker in his homemade car had a start of 31 seconds. Campbell drove with all his accustomed skill. He overhauled the whole field, but found his master in Mr. Harker and his Harker car.

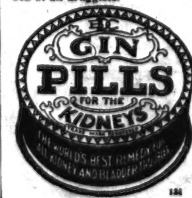

Canada's Fur Production

Canada's production of raw furs in the twelve months ending June 30, 1933, amounted to $10,306,154, a slight increase over production of the previous year, government statistics reveal. About 30 per cent of the total value is represented by furs taken from animals raised in captivity.
